

JOHN F KENNEDY HIGH SCHOOL

SENIOR
BANQUET

WELCOME! On behalf of the Senior Class Officers, I would like to welcome you to The Holiday Inn - Bethesda and our Senior Banquet. I think we have a exciting program planned for you this evening. The tradition of a Senior Banquet is indeed a special one. Special, that in the respect that it is, most likely, the last exclusively - senior activity we will share together. Special, because, for an evening we all sit back and enjoy the talent of our fellow classmates as they proform for us, as well as themselves. And special, because of the time and effort these fun loving indivuals put in to make this evening possible.

It looks to be like an exciting evening so sit back, get comforable, and have a wonderful time.

Sincerely,

Lisa Rickerson

The Class of 1981 of John F. Kennedy High Welcomes You to the

SENIOR CLASS BANQUET
May 7, 1981 7:00 p.m.
Holiday Inn, Bethesda

Program

- I. Welcome Mr. Hacker
- II. Opening Remarks Lisa Rickerson
- III. Introduction of Host Lisa Rickerson
- IV. Dedication Paul Clem
- V. Entertainment Part I
- VI. Dinner
- VII. Entertainment Part II
- VIII. Closing Remarks John Christmas
Paul Clem

The following is a brief synopsis of our senior year, written as a dedication from Paul Clem to the Senior Class:

You can sense it in the halls and see it on our faces, the excitement and sadness of an ending school year. It seems like only months ago we were dancing at Homecoming, and now with just weeks to go, Prom comes to mind. So far there have been many activities that have made up the 81st school year, that to all the participants and onlookers made memories. Who could forget the years sports that preceeded the spirit giving pep rallies.

The football team after a hard season and a last great act of defiance on Homecoming day, still share a joking togetherness. Though a glorious season will always be remembered by the senior soccer players, the pain is barely hidden after the loss of the state championship. Being closely knit, at the season start, the basketball team was unable to keep the threads of unity from unravelling by seasons end. A young and inexperienced group of enthusiastic, confident and hard-working players-were the ingrediants for the field hockey teams regional championship and the most successful season in Kennedy's history. Entering their first season ever, the coed volleyball team is having fun in their so far on-off season. Off to an impressive start, the seniors of the girls soccer team look forward to the joy of playing and bettering their record.

The tennis teams competitiveness on the court and even more within the players themselves, has made this year's tennis team very colorful.

Probably in the most individual sport of the year, the golf players, played just to benefit themselves.

Loyalty and persavirence lead the swimteam to an enjoyable season of many victories.

Wrestling for this years team members went far beyond the enduring practices. The friendships and fun times on and off the mats, lead to a winning season.

Though few in number, the few seniors that did run track, through their dedication, motivated the whole team to return to a cross country and indoor championship.

Looking for a crack at the state championship, track our "swinging" start.

Sports only made up a part of the year's activities. Much love and devotion also went into the making of this year's production of OUR TOWN and DAMN YANKEES; from the exuberance of curtains first opening to the pride and despair of it's final closing, a feeling surfaced that only a cast and director can share. As singing is to music, the band, cheerleaders, majorettes, and poms were to the game. We often took for granted the infinite smiles and inspiration these talented people gave to both players and spectators, And I'm sure we of the band playing, "It's Miller Time," still echoes in the stands.

This year the Speech Team climbed incredibly high on the ladder of success. Even with the loss of the State Title, Number two isn't bad.

The Black Caucus has been quite active in several facets of life at Kennedy this year. The group had had educational as well as cultural information activities. Overall, the group has participated quite actively in the student life here at Kennedy.

In successfully showing new styles, and having a great time while doing so, the Fashion Show was a complete success this year.

Of the many people who made these activities memorable, we must surely thank of those who recorded them for us. Very diligently and patiently. The students of the Yearbook staff put together the one thing all of us will use to look back on our senior year--the 1981 Yearbook.

Like a river flows into an ocean, so our lives will spread and flow into various patterns leading us into the future.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

In gratitude for the past three years of guidance and spiritual cultivation we received, and bearing in mind that without their hard work and dedication, we, undoubtably, would not be in the position we are today. We, the Senior Class of John F. Kennedy High School, being of sound mind and body, hereby leave the following to our "illustrious" givers of knowledge

- To Mr. Tile Anything made out of polyester or dacron acrylic
- To Mr. Nielson Some attention
-
- To Mr. Lombardi Happiness and joy in life
- To Mr. Walker A field to run naked through
- To Mr. Metcalfe nothing
- To Mr. Saunders a memory
- To Mr. Miller Ten pounds of coffee and a toothless comb
- To Mr. Bellman A cart to carry his ego around in and our thanks and best wishes
- To Mrs. Ragan A temper tantrum, and the words "Quiet Please"
- To Mr. Hargrave A number one tennis player who doesn't drink in school
- To Mr. Sanford A new holster for his pipes and a sense of humor

Last Wills continued

- To Mr. Hornyak A cold shower for before volleyball practice
- To Mr. Schere A contract as Lead Singer for the Osmonds, or a career in Ballet
- To Mr. Abrams A little time with his wife
- To Mrs. Abrams A bouncer for the library
- To Miss Belt A hairstyle
- To Mr. Jones A half decent field goal kicker and a smile
- To Mrs. Paska 10 free lessons on "How To Be Mean" from Dr. Suszynski
- To Mrs. Mangraviti Another year of Pep Club and the "Harpo Marx look-alike Award"
- To Mrs. Nave 500 extra typing books to make up for the ones that got away
- To Miss Pardue A new accent, anything sour and a date with Frank Perdue
- To Mrs. Reising All the "inside scoop," her own Ann Landers column when she gets sick of teaching
- To Mrs. Kay A three-period day to schedule 1500 kids with no conflicts.
- To Mr. Butt A cute girl to flirt with
- To Mrs. Kraemer A lie detector
- To Mr. Cokinos An assortment of shirts and ties, (anything that matches brown!)
- To Dr. Suszynski.....The perfect spanish student!!!

(Last Wills cont.)

- To Doc McNelis. . . . A years membership to Holiday Spa and some beauty sleep (20 years worth)
- To Mr. Hacker. . . . All the Sophomores and Juniors, the high spirited Rowdettes, and the "Mr. Rogers look-alike award"

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

I, John Christmas, leave Andrea Steinman, all the sleep she needs for the next ten years.....along with my love and respect

I, Micheal Johnson, leave Mark (Frank Burns) Kominski a sense of humor

I, Mark Kominski, leave Mike Johnson some class

I, James Gottwald, leave John Christmas, a one way ticket to Hawaii with a stop in Houston so he can go to Gilley's

I, Emma Geimer, leave Victoria Nunez 2 weeks of easy method classes

I, Missy Krebs, leave Tom Cummins thanks for alot of happy times

I, Evie Silber, leave Dede Parr a night with the B-52's

I, Garfield Lindo, "Will leave some athletic ability to Adam Spectec"

We, The Senior Class of Kennedy leave to the magic city of Houston, Texas, one Hawaiian!

I, Michael Johnson, leave Saul Dennis some Rationale

I, Mark Kominski, leave Jim Triesler an academy award for best actor and all of the girls he ever wanted

I, Janine Daub, leave Obbie Kay, Carmen Dixon, and Regina Brewer a little bit of "graffiti".

I, Gwen Mates, leave to Chuck Weinstien an alligator

I, Trish Gallaree, leave Mrs. Barter a 2 foot fingernail file

I, James Gottwald, leave all the Japs a lifetime subscription to Vogue

I, Mary McKay, leave Jessica, Yvonne, and Pam all the memories we had at Armones

I, Steve Epperly, leave all my worldly goods to those who need them; and to Teresa Young I leave our memories of love between her and I yesterday, today, and tomorrow

I, Rhonda Winters, leave Paul Erskine 20 moose kisses on the neck

I, Beth Brockman, leave Judy Cooper and Nancy Schied good luck always and thanks for being there when I neede you

I, Amy Shapiro, leave Ama Dwimoh September 8th forever and chinese food

I, Nancy Schied, leave Judy Cooper all the Diana Ross and Supreme albums ever made, money to pay for the car payments, and all the happiness she can find

I, Cheryl Gentry, leave Kim Hart a piece of popable gum

I, Judy Cooper, leave Beth Brockman a full tank of gas, 100 hours of sleep, and a job where she can do whatever she wants

I, Teresa Young, leave my only boyfriend, Steve Epperly, a bottle of JD, a six pack of Bud, and all my love forever and ever

I, Richard Linevsky, leave Jeff Weiss, the world's largest John, fully equipped with lounge chairs, sun umbrella, and diving board

I, Richard Linevsky, sacrificingly, leave the remnants of my next hair cut to Adam Spector so that he may replace the shaven hair from his legs

I, Teresa Young, leave Pat Johnson a new joke, a new comb, and a new truck

I, Amy Shapiro, leave Donna the song "Help" and the hill

I, Janine Daub, leave Paul Erskine his pants-to pull up.

I, Lesley Paul, leave Coach Abrams my soul to keep out in left field. I also leave Mr. Hornyak a pair of ballet shoes to dance with.

I, Rhonda Winters, leave Evan Mugman a cold shower

I, Bonnie Snyder, leave Mr. Bellman, a well-organized, approved senior class trip (cause we're tired of trying)

I, Millie McNeil, leave Deanna Fisher a pillow to use to sleep on during English, during a Kenny Clark movie

I, Andrea Steinman, leave Obbie Kay the correct "Build a Big Mac ticket" that she needs to win $5000

I, Lisa Rickerson, leave Mr. Noll with words I live by "Never put off until tomorrow what can be done today"

I, Deda Parr leave all the varsity cheerleaders lots of great memories (Especially the last game. Remember it? I don't!)

SHOPPING WITH MRS. KAY

1 FREE LESSON

THIS COUPON ENTITLES YOU TO ONE FREE SESSION AT

THE McNEILS School of Dance

EXPIRES MAY 1, 1981

BARGAINS AT KENNEDY!

ONLY ~~65¢~~ 70¢

RALSTON-
PURINA CO.

I, Vicki Maupin, leave Sheri Sheetz my senior picture (yes, Sheri, the one I keep forgetting)

I, Sheri Sheetz, leave Lori Hardiman her late mental breakdown

I, Kim E. Monroe, leave the members in the band all the memories of practicing on wet, cold fields and playing Mickey Mouse when our opponent's came on the field

We, the Threesome, leave Evan Mugman a dead tiger

I, Regina Brewer, leave Caryll Bevilacqua the nights to Prince Charming when he finally decides to arrive

I, Obbie Kay, leave John Christmas all the white cloud available so that he may roll my house forever

I, Mimi Stearman, leave Mike Feldman someone who can fulfill his needs and put up with him at the same time

I, Sharon Levine, leave to Chris Thompson a million hugs

I, Terry Strauß, leave Jay Cunningham a paper handed in on time

I, Bonnie Snyder, leave Jeanne Zanger a free yearbook off the school's budget--with all of the extras

I, Andrea Steinman, leave John Christmas one big, fat, juicy, deliciously tantalizing pineapple

We, Rhonda Winters and Linda Waters, leave Evan Mugman our bodies

I, Lisa Rickerson, leave Jim Triesler the hope of becoming a hostage so that he, too, can get a free lifetime pass to the Orioles' games

I, Kim Hart, leave Andy Starke all my love for his 88 jersey

I, Judy Cooper, leave Nancy S. and Beth some great memories, nights at Einstein, and alot of thanks for being great best friends

I, Amy Shapiro, leave Nancy Levine memories of the fall of '79, football games, JV (ha-ha), the night before Homecoming, Mark G., and of course rye toast and chocolate milk

I, Teresa Young, leave Maureen McMahon ten new excuses for being late and a new bra

I, Cathy Fanning, leave Cara Wynn all my gold chains

I, Dede Parr, leave Kathy Brooks the B-52's and some bizarre sunglasses

I, Nancy Levine, leave Cheryl, Angie, Donna, and Annette- Florida, College Park, parties, punch, ID's, Roy's, gorgeous guys, best wishes in the future, and thanks for being such fantastic friends, I'll never forget any of you; to Amy Shapiro JV, O.C., Homecoming, Big "G's", good luck always, and thanx for always being there for me; to Betsy Trent, 3 years of cheering, co-captains, being bad, lots of secrets, and thanx for everything; and to the Varsity Cheerleaders losing, crying, messing up, but mostly having an extremely great time doing it

I, Amy Shapiro, leave Jennifer O.C., Andy, coffee breaks, Bob's, English, and "our place"

We, who wish to remain anonymous, leave Brian Pikulsky a shove up against his locker and threats to his face

We, John C., Paul C., and Paul E., leave the Class of '81 all the happy memories of the past, the fun and excitement of the present, and hopes for a very successful future

We, the Senior Class of '81, leave to the world, the Senior Class of '81!

CLASS PROPHECY

Through their infinite wisdom, certain senior class members have figured out just what other class members, and faculty, will be doing in the year 1990. (When most of us are 26 or 27, and Doc McNelis 106!)

In the year 1990...

John O'Grady and Roger Hecht will be roomates
Brian Pikulsky will be dancing ballet at the Met.
Jessica Liebow will lead the NBA in rebounding
David Stopak will choke on a quarter
Chuck Weinstein will be eaten by a alligator
David Stopak will find a patch for the whole in his racket Gavin Stannard will still Roger Hecht will be a nuclear plant engineer
Allen Binstock will be a
Paul Clem will still be trying to organize things
David Meiselman will be an all-pro linebacker for the Rams Andrea Steinman will be a big star... and forget us all Alan Binstock will still be driving his "scum-mobile"
Obbie Kay still won't be funny
Brian Pikulsky will get too pumped up and explode
Mike Feldman will be a successful shoe salesman
Mr. Bellman will have been assassinated by a former student
Mr. Bellman will be the boss of his own hair weaving salon
Mr. Bellman will have no hair and Robert Redford will publicly disclaim Al Bellman as his twin brother
The Saturday Night Live team will be led by John Christmas (instead of Chevy Chase) and Paul Erskine (instead of Bill Murray)
Angela Wood will own her own "Professional Pom-pon School"- I'll be your partner (as usual) Love, Janine Evie Silber will still be using her Kissing Potion lip gloss, Mike Feldman will be the leading comic Richard Shemer will be the next Babe Ruth Andrea Steinman will be a telephone operator who also sings telegrams
Paul Clem will own his own beer company and throw parties for everyone

(class prophecies cont.)

Kenny Baron will be a Harvard Professor
Jeanne Zanger will have a condo right on "Blacks Beach"
Steve Schuck will be a tap dancing teacher
James Gottwald will have two good arms
Adam Gorsky will shave
Jeane Shackelford will wrestle for channel 20
Eileen Pingatorg will cut her hair

Susy Yeh and Jodi Ehr will be the first women to play for the Dips

Enid Bertolini will break 60 lbs.

Lewis Flax will merge with Eastern Airlines

Evan Mugmon will star in the TV version of Fat Albert

John Christmas will be a petroleum engineer for a large corporation (a gas station attendant for Exxon)

Shari and Deanna will still be going to "Roys" for lunch at 12:00

Lisa, Sharon and Bonnie will still be sitting at the front of the cafeteria selling something (keep up the good work!)

Janine Daub will be on the Tonight Show imitating her old high school teachers

Paul Erskine will be a comic strip in the Post

Rami Toueg will still be going around in drag

Donna Cangemi will star on the "New Don Ho Show"

Caryll Bevilaqua will go grey and nobody will notice

Chris Thompson will still be dancing in lunchrooms

Richard Shemer will be a male nurse at St. Elizabeths

Thomas McCarty will be dating the center on the Washingtons Womens Pro-Basketball Team

Lisa Fischetti will take Richard Simmons' place on morning exercise

(class prophecies cont.)

Paul Erskine will paint billboards and probably be discovered as an actor who will take Jerry Lewis' place in comedy
John Gallo will be fire chief
Obbie Kay will be the first woman President of the good 'ol USA
Evan Mugman will be a Rabbi
Rick House will be another Frank Sinatra
Susan Hannegan will be happily married and have ten kids
David Stopak will learn to play tennis
Kathy Brooks will be a label on designer jeans
Janine Daub will be the next Florence Nightengale Dede Parr will be the lead singer in a famous punk rock band
Mr. Frank Lombardi will leave JFK to be a star
Mr. Freed will have bored over a million students
Mr. Hornyak will finally be recognized as the "Modern Renaissance Man"
Jennifer Potocnak will be the next Rona Barrett and Howie Osterman will be the editor of The National Enquirer
Carmen Dixon will be rich, successful, and famous, and better not forget her friends
Lisa Rickerson will be poor, live in an unfurnished house, but will be an artist
We, Emma Geimer and Vicki Nunez, firmly beleive that Evan Mugman will never grow up Andrea Steinman will be on tv
Paul Erskine will go bald
Paul Clem will be an Air Force General
Donna Cangemi will succeed in life and be a very happy person

Steve Harris will be Secretary of State, Steve Hazen will be Secretary of Defense, Dan Debuchannane will be Supreme Commander of NATO forces, and Gene Mason will be doing 30-40 years for terrorism and arson
Our own loveable Mr. Dexter will still be complaining about the decline of educaion
Mr. Hacker will be Kermit-the-Frog's replacement on the Muppet Show
The graduating class of John F. Kennedy High, 1981 will get all the happiness it deserves.

Our sincere thanks goes out to the following people for making the 1981 Senior Banquet possible. To Bonnie and Sharon for making the arrangements with the Holiday Inn Bethesda, and for coordinating ticket sales. To Mr. Bellman for doing whatever it is he does. To Doc McNelis for acting as our talent consultant and being in Paul's film. To Janine Daub, Kathy Werlinich, Mary McKay, Fabiana Limerez, Nancy Hudson, Nancy Levine, and Millie McNeil for typing our program (you're all incredible girls). To Lisa Rickerson for letting us have our fun! To Frank Lombardi for his help with organizing the talent portion of our show. To Mr. Hacker and the rest of the faculty for being such good sports. To the Holiday Inn staff, and of course, a speacil thanks to everyone who performed this evening to really make this banquet something to remember.

Thanks again,

*John Osterman
Paul Clem*

Your "Humble" Hosts